baramundi Managed Software

Applications always automatically up to date

With baramundi Managed Software, you deploy updates and patches for your most important applications – checked by experts and prepared so that they are ready for deployment. You save time and resources and increase system security.

With baramundi Managed Software, you can:

- ⊙ Receive software packages for updates and patches ready for deployment
- ⊙ Receive security-relevant patches in good time
- ⊙ Easily manage installations, uninstallations and security patches
- ⊙ Have all updates checked and packetized by experts
- ⊙ Free up time and resources
- ⊙ Ensure your programs always have the latest secure status

Keeping lots of different standard software programs in the company maintained and up to date with all the updates and security patches takes a lot of time, knowledge, and attention. baramundi Managed Software takes over this job for you: It monitors updates and patches for many applications.

baramundi experts packetize all the software packages, check them and make them available in the baramundi online database for automatic deployment. For every update, you receive detailed information directly in the baramundi Management Center, which allows you to decide which updates you need. Security relevant updates are therefore ready for deployment promptly. The only exception is Microsoft security patches, which can be managed as usual with baramundi Patch Management.
