baramundi Management Suite

Clever Software Installation, Patching and Management

For many administrators, IT responsibility means a whole number of routine jobs and too little time for important productive work. However, tasks like the installation of operating systems and software, equipment inventories or data security can be automated very efficiently: with baramundi Management Suite.

- Install and update operating systems and software automatically
- Deploy security-relevant patches
- Take inventories of the entire company automatically
- Share inventory data with other applications via flexible interfaces
- Maintain an overview of the status of licenses in the IT landscape
- Back up and restore data centrally
- Easily manage complex configurations
- Save time and resources

During the first year alone, the baramundi Management Suite will reduce your costs for installation and maintenance by roughly one third. And over the course of just a few years, your current budget for these items will fall to as much as 15% of the original amount. Give it a try
